Step 2

Create your account

Click "Access My Lab Results" to begin the log-on process. Create an account by entering a username, password, and email address provided at the time of sign-up.

Step 3

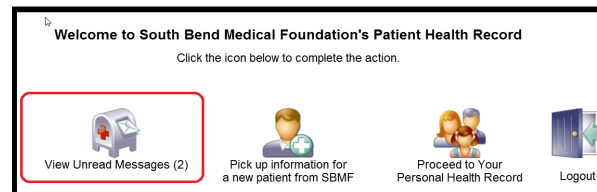

Register your account

When your account has been created you will be directed to the "Account Registration" page. After completing the information you will then be prompted to enter: first name, last name, date of birth, and email address provided at time of sign-up. Click the "SUBMIT" check-mark to continue.

Step 4

Access your inbox

Once the information from Step 3 has been accurately entered, your results will flow over to your My Lab Results inbox. Click the "Return to Home Page" check-mark to proceed.

Step 5

View your lab results

At the homepage you will notice you now have messages in your inbox. These are your lab results. Click the inbox to access and view your lab results.
